GRUBBING IMPLEMENT

Lever Device Will Uproot Bushes and Small Trees With Ease.

It is, of course, generally known that the lever principle gives the greatest power for the smallest physical exertion. It is not so generally known that the work of grubbing is a veritable labor of Hercules and that the uprooting of a few stunted bushes and young trees is all that exercise some men want. A Virginia man, however, was cognizant of these facts and he set about inventing an implement on the lever principle to be used in grubbing. The result was the device shown in the cut, which is guaranteed to uproot anything but the village chestnut tree and the Constitution. First there is a base with an arm rigidly attached. There is a jaw at the end of the arm and a brace to which a lever is pivoted. On the end of the lever is another jaw, co-operating with the first-mentioned. The implement is thrust close to the roots of a bush, the stem of which is seized between the two jaws and a pull on the lever tears the bush up.

CHILE TO SUBMIT CLAIM TO EDWARD

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 26.—William Overport, American, charged with defrauding, today made a proposal to the Chilean government that the Alsop claim be submitted to the arbitration of King Edward, who is friendly to both sides.

The proposal was accepted and the two countries will ask the British monarch to act as arbitrator.

State department officials, however, decline to discuss the matter one way or the other and would not admit that the negotiations for a protocol relating the claims to The Hague for arbitration on its merits was at a practical standstill and from present indications would not be resumed.

In the absence of definite information as to the initiative of the suggestion that the matter be referred to King Edward, it is believed here that the first step in this direction was taken by Brazil, which probably made simultaneous suggestions to both countries. The report that King Edward has not been consulted in the matter is regarded as important, as it is not certain that the king would willingly assume the responsibility of composing the differences between the United States and Chile.

BRINGING TO LIGHT MORE CUSTOM FRAUDS

New York, Nov. 26.—A new series of alleged customs frauds was brought to light today with the arrest of Thos. C. Giddings, a customs weigher, on an indictment charging him with conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with importations of furs in 1906.

According to the federal prosecutor, Giddings under-weighed two shipments of furs consigned to local importers, recording the weight of the first shipment at 30,000 pounds instead of 40,000 and defrauding the government of the duty on 8,700 pounds of furs in the second shipment.

The indictment against Giddings, it is intimated is the first of a series which the government hopes to obtain from the grand jury now in session.

CANNON ROASTS TARIFF ENEMIES

Kansas City, Nov. 26.—"When Senators Cummins, La Follette, Bristow and their so-called 'progressive' following join hands with Mr. Bryan in making war upon Republican members of congress, who passed the tariff bill and upon the president, who signed it, in that contest, I know of only one way to treat them, and that is to roast them just as we fight Mr. Bryan and his following."

Such was the declaration of Speaker Cannon, who delivered the principal address before the annual banquet of the Knife and Fork club here tonight. Mr. Cannon said Senator Cummins alone had read himself out of the Republican party. He defended the rules of the house, saying they will remain substantially as they have been and are so long as there is a congress.

"Ever since history began," said the speaker, "the man in the minority has been seeking some device by which he could overcome the will of the majority."

Mr. Cannon asserted that, while the Payne tariff law is not perfect, it is the best ever passed under Republican leadership, that, since the enactment of the new law, production in this country and imports, have greatly increased, and that day by day conditions are improving.

The "insurgents" and their followers, he said, are seeking to hinder the progress of prosperity by criticism and denunciation, and within three months of the passage of the tariff only such agitation can halt the prospective era of prosperity, he declared.

"The demagogue," said Mr. Cannon, "we have always with us, and as ours is a government of the people, the only way to dispose of him is to move on. I am perfectly willing to trust the verdict of a prosperous and happy people, in the elections in November 1910, after the new tariff law has been in operation for more than a year."

At the conclusion of his prepared speech, Speaker Cannon indulged in some extemporaneous remarks in which he became vehement in his objection to the attitude of a local paper toward him.

He quoted the paper as stating today that "Speaker Cannon realizes that his popularity is on the wane," and declared in response to that statement that in all his long life he had never turned his back upon a friend, nor his face away from an enemy.

"Will you print that?" he yelled toward the press table, and added: "I am sorry the editor of the paper is not here to answer me himself."

Speaker Cannon deplored what he explained as the custom of some newspapers to mislead their readers by an ingenious arrangement of headlines, and intimated that the support of newspapers was not always necessary for the success of the man in public life.

He cited recent elections in the Sixth Illinois congressional district, where, he said, the successful candidate was opposed by leading papers of Chicago.

Ridiculing the charge that the Payne tariff law was enacted for the benefit of New England interests, the speaker cited numerous statistics to support his declaration that products of New England manufacturers had shown a decided increase under republican policies, as compared with the increase of manufactures in other states.

Former Congressman John Allen of Mississippi, who also addressed the club, supported the arguments of Speaker Cannon in defending rules of the house, but he said he could not agree with Speaker Cannon, Senator Aldrich and President Taft that the Payne law was the best tariff law ever enacted.

Washington, Nov. 26.—"Speaker Cannon never was stronger before the thinking people than he is today."

This statement was made at the White house today by Representative Boutwell of Illinois, who had called to see the president and was asked about the situation in congress.

AMERICANS WIN PATENT DISPUTE

Leipzig, Nov. 26.—The imperial supreme court today rendered a decision in a patent case in which it interpreted the patent agreement between Germany and the United States in favor of an American company, which was a branch office in Berlin.

This branch office obtained letters of patent under the German law, but it failed to place the invention on the market within three years, as specified by the German statute. Thereupon a German brought suit to vacate the patent rights, and the patent office decided in his favor.

The court today declared that the patent office must renew the letters of patent as the German-American agreement guaranteed reciprocal treatment of patents.

The German-American patent agreement was signed at Washington on February 23.

It relieves American manufacturers of the requirement of the German law that to sell their products in Germany they must manufacture them upon the basis of patents in Germany.

It also relieves Americans from the restriction which declared patents forfeited if not actually worked in Germany within three years.

IRON KING'S WIFE IS GRANTED SEPARATION

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 26.—The appellate division of the supreme court has affirmed the decision of Supreme Court Justice Keogh in the action brought by Mary B. Tower, wife of Albert E. Tower, Poughkeepsie's "iron king," for separation and alimony.

Justice Keogh granted the separation and allowed Mrs. Tower $700 a month alimony. An appeal was taken and the appellate division has upheld Justice Keogh.

Mrs. Tower brought action on the grounds of cruelty and inhuman treatment and alleged that Mr. Tower subjected her to great humiliation in a cruise on his yacht, Earl King, which since has become a sunboat in the Haytian navy.

Mr. Tower is the owner of the Poughkeepsie iron works. His wife formerly was Mary Bogard, an operator in the Poughkeepsie central telephone office, whom he married soon after his first wife and a son were found shot to death in their rooms in the Tower house seven years ago.

Mrs. Tower alleges in her complaint that Mr. Tower is worth $7,000,000.

RAMSESSE, KING OF EGYPT, IS IN CLASSIC BOSTON

Boston, Nov. 26.—Ramesse, king of Egypt, is resting aboard the steamship Aragonia, while the vessel is discharging a portion of her cargo here preparatory to proceeding to New York.

The monarch, whose age is estimated at about 3,000 years, was lifted aboard the steamer by the seamen at Suez, with New York for a destination.

Ramesse—just which one of the long line of Egyptian sovereigns of that name has not been determined—is a mummy. Although the remains weigh only 125 pounds, they are so carefully packed in lead, iron and wood that in their case they weigh more than 1,000 pounds. On the outside of the case are the words: "Valued at $20,000."

The mummy is consigned simply to the Hamburg-American Line, New York.
